

The One and Only

I met you walking on the street today
You're lookin' good to me
We got to talking about the good old days
You're in love and living happily

She came along as we were drifting apart
It didn't take you long
The way it's looking I was playing my part
There's no doubt that's where your heart belongs

*I'm the one before the one and only
One before the one and only
One before the one and only one*

Over and over the story's the same
It happens every time
She makes her entrance as I'm leaving
She's the love he's been hoping to find

*I'm the one before the one and only
One before the one and only
One before the one and only one*

I'm not sorry
I'm not sorry

Some people think
It's all in the stars
That we've got nothing to say
Determined destiny or deal of the cards

I wouldn't want it any other way

I'm the one before the one and only

One before the one and only

One before the one and only one
